l'agenda

overbrook regional high school, lindenwold, n.j.

"oh well, if i don't finish my work, anita will do it for me."

"which car shall we destroy first?"

don't look now, mr. o'brien, but there is a hole in your shoe.

a yearbook is meant to provide everyone with a few of their fondest memories. in this book, we have tried to portray every facet of the school. we feel that this years' l'agenda is a book you will always treasure.

"maybe if i hurry. i'll have time to do bobby's history homework also."

"dear gino ..."

"add two eggs and stir with a fork."

"now i lay me down to sleep ..."

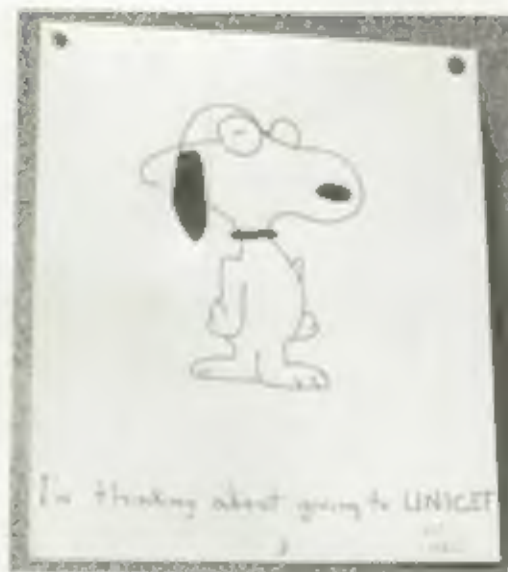

"rams on the rampage, ooh ahh ahh"

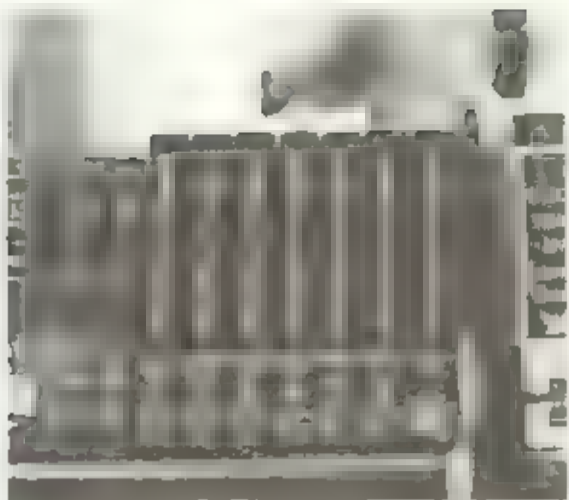

"sorry, seniors only."

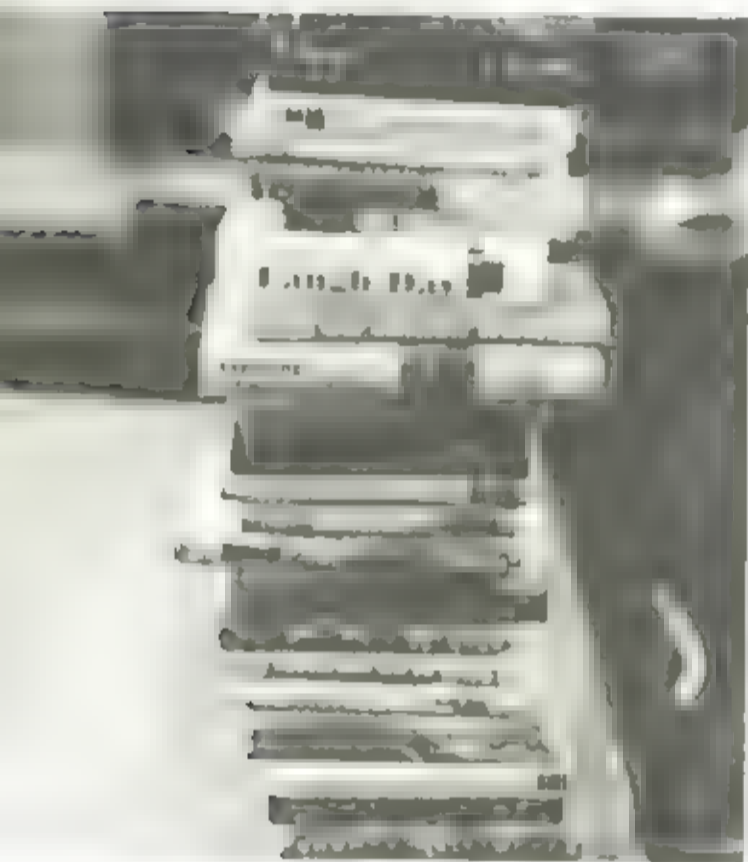

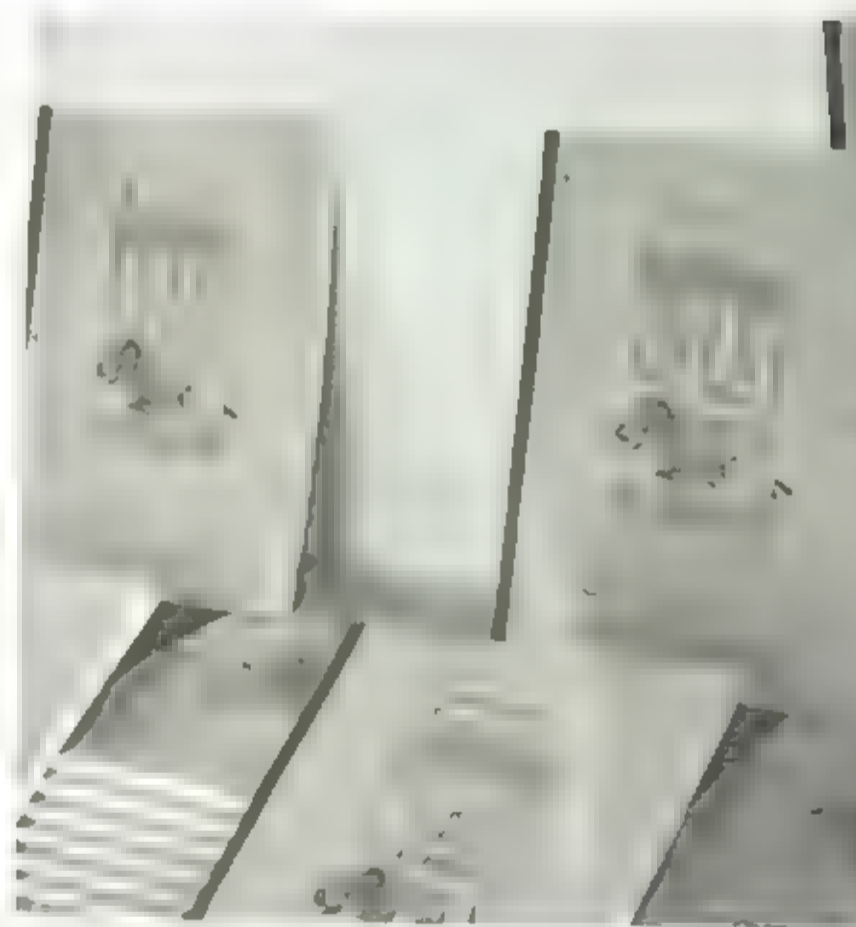

it never get off the ground mr. adams

an english teachers dream

why don't you get comfortable and make yourself at home dennis?

am not crying mr finley i'm tired debbie beckley our lovely varsity queen for 1968 1969 congratulations go to debbie curtis first runner up and karen clendinning, second runner up.

barbara krol third runner up and donna barnes fourth runner up

the crowning of the queen

the annual varsity queen contest in our school is a thrilling event to every girl in the junior class. the girls are all given so many tickets to sell in order to become eligible. the night of the contest is an important one to all the girls who have made it in the finals. they are judged by their poise, personality, and activities in school the varsity club should be very proud of their affair as it is one of the nicest in the school. we hope every junior girl will someday at least try to become the new varsity queen. debbie beckley, this years' queen, and diane mitchell, last years' queen, are outstanding representatives of this affair.

diane's last day

debbie. our 1968-69 queen

dedication

since mr. cattelona came to overbrook in 1964, he has shown great interest in extra-curricular activities with the football team, with the junior class and with the audio-visual aids department.

he will not only be remembered in the classroom as a history teacher, but also as an assistant football coach. he has shown a great deal of understanding while helping the class of 1969 have one of the best proms in the history of the school.

mr. cattelona is a man the class of 1969 will always remember.

in memoriam

death be not proud, though some have called thee mighty and dreadful, for, thou art not so,
for those, whom thou think'st, thou dost overthrow,
die not, poor death nor yet canst thou kill me.
from rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
much pleasure, then from thee, much more must flow,
and soonest our best men with thee do go,
rest of their bones and soul's delivery.
thou art slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
and dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell,
and poppy, or charm can make us sleep as well,
and better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then?

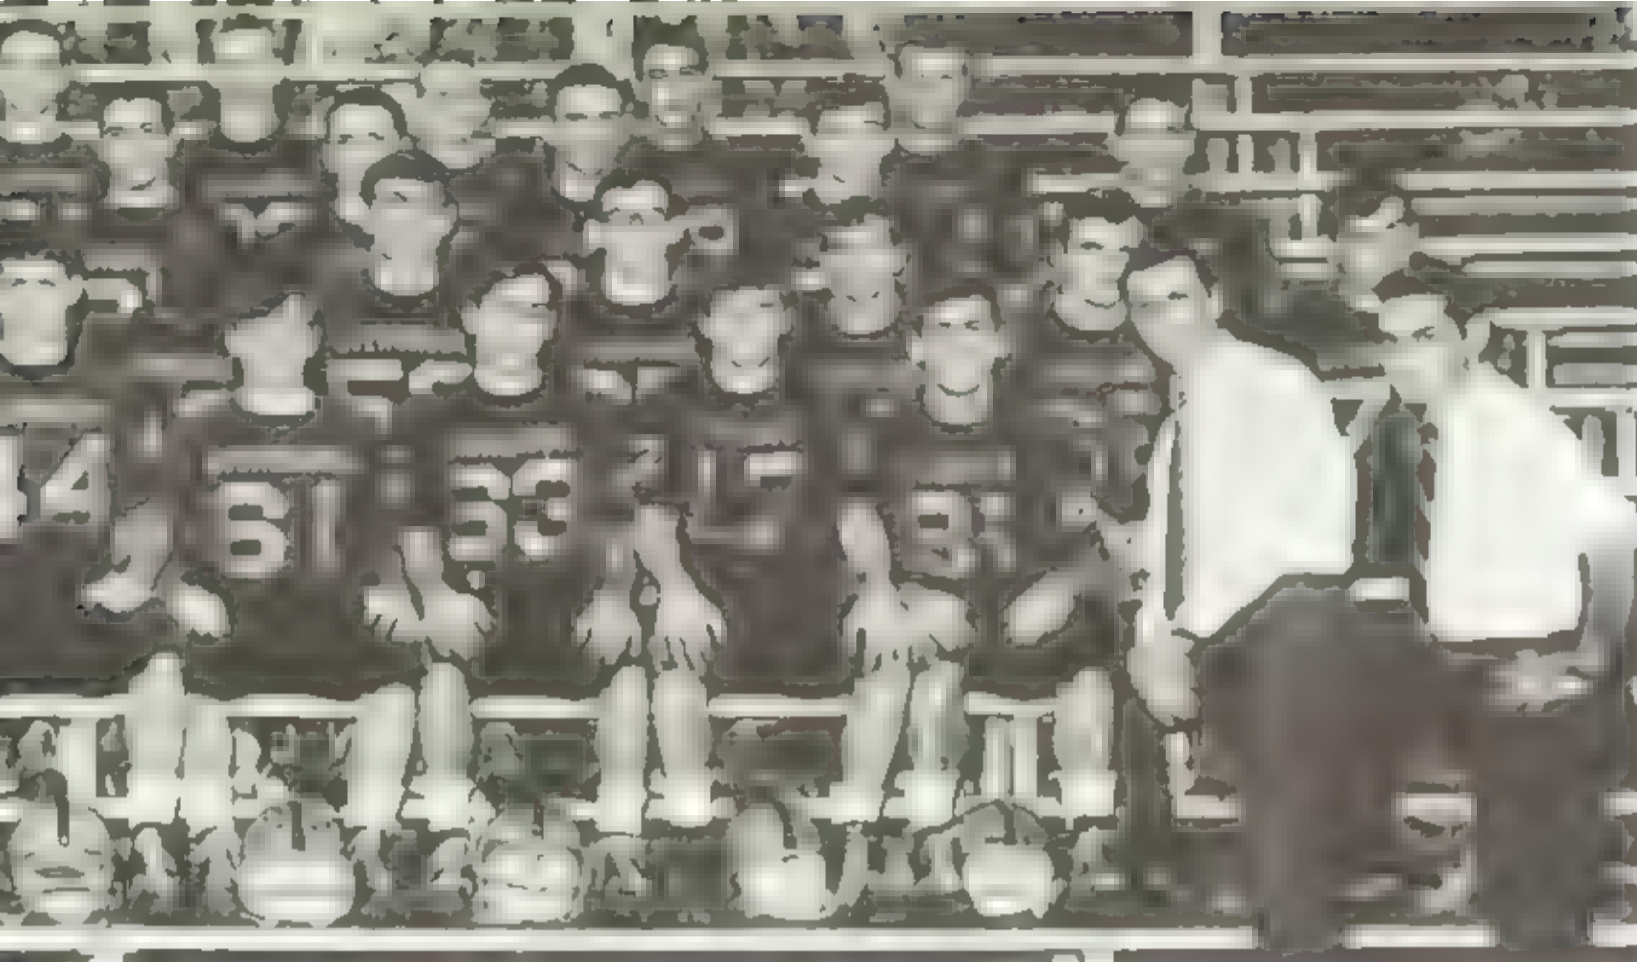

One short sleep past, we wake eternally,

And death shall be no more; death, thou shalt die.

The challenges facing the world today provide opportunity and need for every graduate to become a real participating citizen. This is the only way our democratic way of life will survive. Peace, pollution and poverty provide the major areas in which the problems must be solved with cooperation, understanding and vigorous participation by each new adult generation. I am certain that answers to these problems can be found.

The education you received at Overbrook should enable you to continue striving to reach your most cherished goal. Congratulations and best wishes to you as a member of the graduating class.

Leonard A. Westman
superintendent

there is considerable discussion today concerning the special brand of the young adults who seem to express themselves best in the three a's. anarchy, apathy and aimlessness. they are a small, but a vociferous percentage of teenagers whose actions, words, thoughts, and deeds lead to a common indictment of all teenagers. therefore, all teenagers have been labeled as an incompetent decision-making group with an inadequate sense of responsibility.

we who work closely with your generation cannot accept this indictment. we know that you do not have the wisdom and sagacity of a prophet and at the same time we do not overtly express claim and sanctimoniously intone "they have no sense of responsibility." we know that a sense of responsibility must be nurtured and developed. we, your teachers and administrators, have tried to follow the wisdom of the prophet-kahlil gibran who said: the teacher who walks in the shadow of the temple, among his followers, gives not of his wisdom but rather of his faith and lovingness.

if he is indeed wise, he does not bid you enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind. if we have been successful in implementing this wisdom, then i am sure the age-old guideposts of the 3 r's are secure.

we fervently wish that we have led each of you to the threshold of your own mind. to each of you god's speed in helping you to be thyself.

mr. carl maiese

to the class of '69

your senior year even tops last year as a year of demonstrations, riots, and militancy. when you leave us don't be "dragged under" by the many undertows that will be around you. instead, think big and be big. the world is still for the taking by those who are worthy and will work hard.

like they used to say and still do, "there's gold in them there hills," and fun too, for those who are willing to dig it out.

SENIORS

Dear Classmates

We have been together for six great years, and now the best years are yet to come. We have strived hard to better ourselves and our school through our academic and athletic achievements. I hope we have learned to evaluate, understand, and appreciate the values of education that the faculty and administration of Overbrook have tried to impress upon each and everyone of us.

As we go into this world after graduation, let us apply what we have learned to all of our endeavors.

Don't let your memories die after graduation, let them carry on through the years as you remember during your years at Overbrook the things that have changed your life.

We should profit from our experiences, remember the good times and be proud of accomplishments. Keep in mind the standards that the Class of 1969 has tried to uphold and build upon the goals that we have set.

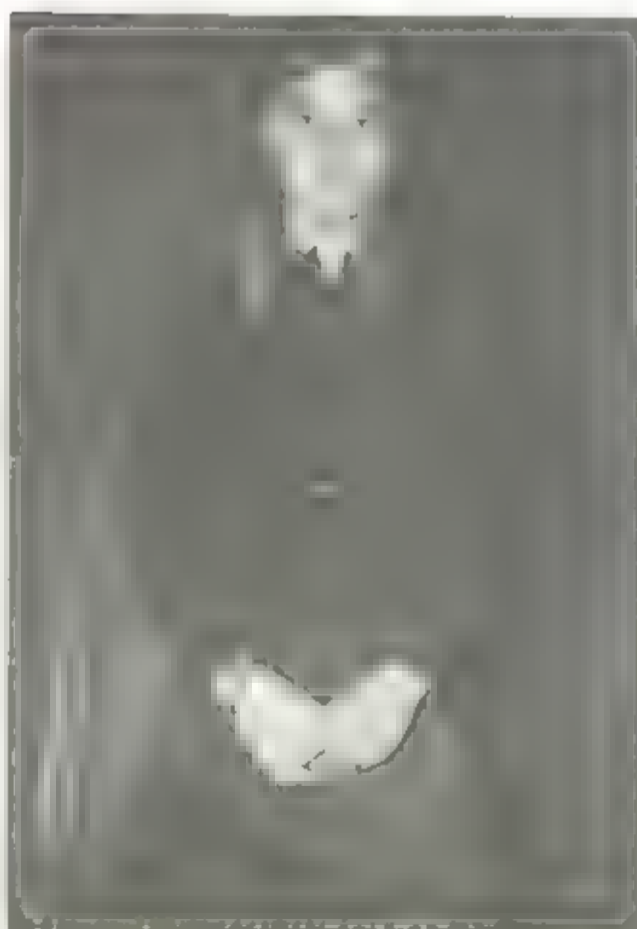

It has been a pleasure serving as your class president and I will be always proud of the fact that I was president of the Class of 1969.

As we, the class of 1969, walk through the senior doors for the last time, we are suddenly filled with joyful sorrow. We realize this is our last good-bye to the school we have attended for six important years.

Yes, it is finally our turn to enter into a world that has a need of our talents. We know it will be difficult to face the world, but our teachers have prepared us well.

Patiently, we stood by and watched five classes graduate before us. Their sadness at leaving was difficult for us to understand, but now, we too, understand that sadness. Graduation marks the end of many friendships, and permits the paradox of joyous sorrow.

As we look back on our alma mater, we'll never forget our administration and faculty for making our school one to be proud of. They have made our school a place we will always fondly remember.

We would like to thank our class officers, also, for making our senior year such a success. We especially want to thank David Ernst for doing such a good job as President of our senior class.

Throughout the past three years, we have had three of the finest faculty members as class advisors. We would like to thank them now.

First, thanks goes to Mrs. Wissman for making our sophomore year such a huge success. Our Cotillion was wonderful and full of our fondest memories. We will never forget that December evening when Susan Reed was crowned Queen

Mr. Cattelone, to whom this book is also dedicated, was both a friend and a teacher to our class. He is the man who made our Junior Ring Dance successful. The most poignant memory of that dance was the crowning of the king and queen. Also, Mr. Cattelone managed to provide us with a wonderful prom with Linda Miller as Queen at the Ivy Stone Inn

Last, but certainly not least is Mr. Hoch, our Senior Class Advisor. Mr. Hoch is the man who made the Washington Trip a reality

So as we leave the school we have grown to love, we all feel both joy and sadness. We know the school will still go on even though we are no longer here; we know we will miss the daily activities of the school, but we know that our presence will echo silently in the corridors for many years to come

So now we say good bye, we hope that the underclassmen will take advantage of their remaining years at Overbrook. If every class can have as many joyous memories as we do, they will never be sorry.
